THE HONGKONG TELEGRAPH

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1882.

In commencing the fourth quarter of our first year of existence it is but meet that we should give some account of our stewardship as a representative of public interests.
In the first place we think we can fairly claim to have practically fulfilled the promises held out to the public when we solicited their support and co-operation to establish an independent journal in this Colony. Our independent policy may possibly have not been universally popular, as independence is a plant of rare growth in Hongkong; but for that we were prepared knowing quite well the impossibility of satisfying everybody. We promised our supporters that the Hongkong Telegraph would in a few months become one of the best newspapers in the Far East, and we submit that from every point of view, we are in a position to say that we have kept our promise. In the future, it will be our aim—as it has been in the past—to supply our readers with all the latest news as early as possible, and to become in all respects a thoroughly representative organ of public opinion. Deeds not mere words will be the best guarantee of our claims to public support.

Notwithstanding the unscrupulous opposition of our contemporaries—a class of opposition unparalleled in the history of journalism—we are still leading a flourishing existence; in spite of the prophetic utterances of the Daily Press that the Telegraph would not "live for three weeks," after nine months continual warfare against long odds our position is not only assured, but our circulation is increasing every day.
And this result was inevitable. We remember observing when referring to the publication of the Telegraph in its enlarged form that we should put the China Mail on its mettle to hold its own as a news medium, and reduce the Daily Press to something very like a pale reflex, a mere reprint of the afternoon and evening papers. Something like this has actually taken place; but we have not quite finished with our contemporaries yet.

The Daily Press is a morning paper only in name. Unless in exceptional cases, such as late meetings of the Legislative Council, our so-called morning contemporary is published shortly after nine o'clock in the evening, so that it can hardly be expected to contain much that has not previously appeared in the Mail or Telegraph. Before long we shall at least do the public good service by causing some alterations in this sluggish style of newspaper management, even if we fail—which is not very likely—to benefit ourselves. The time is hardly ripe for a morning edition of the Hongkong Telegraph, but unless we greatly err that desirable institution will before long become an fait accompli. Our contemporary has the advantage of being an old established organ, and its present management evidently believe that it can continue to prosper on its past reputation, and its manifold advantages as an advertising medium derived from its nominal publication in the morning. We shall proceed without loss of time to try to prove the fallacy of entertaining such ideas in this commercial age.

As we are unable at present to meet the views of a large number of our friends and well wishers who desire to see the Telegraph a morning journal, we have decided to publish daily on and after Monday, the 3rd inst. at about 10.30 a.m., a Special Sheet containing latest Shipping News, such as arrivals and departures; any interesting local matters which may have transpired during the morning; memoranda of the prominent business and other events of the day; together with the whole of the advertisements in the Telegraph carefully arranged and prominently displayed. The Special Sheet will be circulated free of charge to all the offices, stores, and homes in the Colony, both foreign and Chinese, and on board all vessels in the Harbour. This will practically give the Hongkong Telegraph a larger circulation as an advertising medium than any paper published in the Colony, and its advantages to advertisers—considering our low scale of charges as compared with our contemporaries—can hardly be over-estimated.
All advertisements in the Telegraph will appear in the Special morning edition without any extra charge.

We have also to frankly acknowledge that hitherto our endeavours to publish the Telegraph at 4 p.m., have not proved successful, and we are aware that this has placed us in many respects at a great disadvantage. We trust however that our new arrangements just completed, will enable us after this date without difficulty to have the paper issued as nearly as possible at the time announced. Other arrangements are also in progress, which we hope will still further enhance the value of this journal, as a public organ.

A powerful association called the "Anti-Aggression League," has just been formed in London, particulars of which we give below in the shape of extracts from the Times and Pall Mall Gazette. It will be observed, that many of the promoters are influential members of Parliament principally belonging to the Liberal party. It is not too much to infer that the representations made by Sir John Pore HENNESSY during his career as a Colonial Governor, have had something to do with the birth of this institution, and if we mistake not he will be found to be one of its most ardent supporters.

The Times under the heading "Our Foreign and Colonial Policy" states that a preliminary meeting "to discuss measures for the better conduct of our foreign and colonial policy," with a view to the establishment of an Anti-Aggression League, was held at the Westminster Palace Hotel.
Mr. JOHN MORLEY presided, and there were present Sir ARTHUR HONOURSE, Mr. HERBERT SPENCER, Mr. DILLWYN, M.P., Mr. H. RICHARD, M.P., Mr. J. D. HUTCHIN-SON, M.P., Mr. F. PENNINGTON, M.P., Mr.
I. WILSON, M.P., Mr. J. P. THOMASSON, M.P., Mr. J. CROPPER, M.P., Dr. J. KINNEAR, M.P., Mr. G. PALMER, M.P., PROFESSOR LEON LEE, the Hon. E. MARJORIBANKS, M.P., Mr. J. A. CROSS, M.P., Mr. J. JEN-KINS, M.P., Mr. S. C. E. WILLIAMS, M.P., Mr.
J. BAYER, M.P., and Mr. J. HOWARD, M.P.

The Chairman, in a short address, said our foreign policy was often at variance with English public opinion, and for a very obvious reason. Those who by education, by class traditions, by family interests, were prompted to what is called a "forward policy" were dominant in London, they were socially connected one with another, met daily in their clubs, and formed a large proportion of the Legislature.
Contrariwise, those whose occupations and sentiments led them strongly to oppose high-handed doings formed a dispersed population, mainly provincial, composed of classes having scarcely any common intercourse, and whose opinions were expressed in widely-scattered journals, whose aggregate utterances produced but little direct effect at the seat of Government. A small but concentrated body, easily acting together, always had the advantage over a large, diffused, but unorganized body.
Hence it resulted that in the conduct of our external relations courses were followed which would not have been taken had the nation's will been manifested—courses which in some instances had to be retraced after great mischief had been carried. In other instances our true interests had been permanently compromised by ever fresh entanglements, threatening new dangers.
Towards diminishing that evil something might be done by facilitating the co-operation of those disconnected masses of men, otherwise differing in their views, who were at one in the desire to pursue, whenever possible, a pacific policy.
A centre of mutual communication for the various sections of the peace-loving community would aid in more promptly evoking their joint opinion, and bringing it to bear as a factor in determining our foreign and colonial policy. Among the objects of the proposed league the leading ones would be—first, to bring together all accessible information respecting our dealings with civilized nations, the doings of our officials in India, our colonies, and foreign stations, for the purpose of quickly drawing attention to unauthorized proceedings, and to proceedings which threatened to commit us without our knowledge or assent.

A second aim would be to increase the control of Parliament over the Executive in respect of international and colonial transactions. A third purpose was that of putting a more effectual curb on the doings of our agents abroad. A fourth end in view was greatly to qualify the doctrine that our Government is bound to use force in defence of every British subject, whithersoever he might choose to wander.
One more object was the furtherance of the practice of international arbitration.

Mr. DILLWYN moved, Mr. E. MARJORIBANKS seconded, and it was resolved, "That, in view of our frequent acts of aggression on barbarous and semi-civilized communities in contact with the British Empire at various points, leading to conflicts which Parliament and the nation have not sanctioned, it is desirable to form a league of all who wish, irrespective of party, to insist on a policy of non-aggression."

Mr. HERBERT SPENCER, in moving the next resolution, which insisted on the importance of a more effective Parliamentary control over the country's external relations, while admitting that much might be said in defence of our present system of conducting foreign affairs, contended that there was clearly a large range of our external action in the conduct of which secrecy was neither necessary nor desirable. Whatever inconvenience might arise from the public discussion of such matters, it would be trifling compared with the vast evils now resulting from the want of publicity. We must choose between the two alternatives. We ought either to find some means by which they might safeguard themselves against being betrayed into needless and unjust wars, or we ought to leave off boasting of being a self-governed people.

On the motion of the Hon. and Rev. W.
H. FREEMANTLE, seconded by Mr. J. CARVELL WILLIAMS, a resolution was passed inviting the formation of auxiliaries to the league.

Among the other speakers were Sir A.
HONOURSE and Mr. H. RICHARD, M.P., and a resolution was carried protesting against the recent grant of a charter to the British North Borneo Company without the knowledge of Parliament.

Commenting on the results of the meeting the Pall Mall Gazette says:—"There was what the Daily News rightly calls 'an interesting meeting' at the Westminster Palace Hotel yesterday to take measures for the formation of a new society, which will prove to be of some importance. Its object is to inform, guide, and organize public opinion, not so much perhaps on foreign policy as on the constantly recurring cases where our agents on distant frontiers commit us to unjust and inexpedient action before authorities at home know what is being done. The platform comprised men of the widest variety of opinion in other subjects; and the lions of the Establishment and of Nonconformity sat down with the lambs of Evolution. What is worth noticing is that these representative schools seem to be coming to an active agreement, not merely of a vague kind in favour of peace, but on a general political doctrine that unjust wars and violent accusations are not only crimes but great blunders. These blunders would be prevented if the public at home were kept well informed as to what is going on, and if there were means of so organizing its opinion that a Minister would be conscious of his responsibility to it, while other politicians would have it at their back in resisting our 'prancing proposals' abroad and their abettors at home."

Mr. FREDERIC HARRISON, in the course of some forcible remarks at the meeting made one striking observation (and both he and Mr. HERBERT SPENCER by the way, spoke in a style that showed that the capacity of thinking and writing is not so fatal to powers of successful speech as members of Parliament like to suppose). "It would be a very useful thing," said Mr. HARRISON, "if we, like the old Romans, could have a temple of Janus, of which the doors should be shut in the time of peace, and open when we were at war. It might be conveniently set up in Palace Yard, so that when our senators went down at four o'clock to the House they might look up, and seeing the open doors, might be thereby moved to ask where we were fighting and how it came about." If men asked themselves these questions more systematically, probably we should not have in the next fifty years, as we have had in the past, a war per annum.

It was generally understood at home before the departure of the last mail that Lieut. General Arthur Herbert, C.B., would succeed Sir Garnet Wolseley as quartermaster-general on the 1st of April, when Sir Garnet becomes adjutant-general.

Stratford, says a home journal, is assuming somewhat alarming dimensions in Berlin. Within the fortnight ending February 24th no fewer than 28 persons have taken or tried to take their lives, giving an average of two a day. In one week there were 17 cases, seven falling to one day.

We learn that an Athletic Meeting for boys will be held on the Cricket Ground on Easter Tuesday. The whole of the events will be open to the various schools in the colony, and as it is proposed to divide the competitors into three classes according to age, the sports should prove more than usually interesting.

HENRY THATCHER of Southwark, the well known pedestrian has again eclipsed all previous records for a three hours walk. For a bet of £25 Thatcher walked at Lillie Bridge Grounds, West Drompton, 22 miles 206 yards in 2 hours 58 minutes and 35 seconds, winning his bet with one minute and twenty five seconds to spare.

It is rumored that a telegram has been received within the last day or two from the Governor dated Rangoon. If this be true, it would seem that His Excellency has departed from his original plan of going via Ceylon, and has been making his way leisurely to Calcutta through the interesting countries of Tennasserim and Burmah.

We regret to note the death of M. Rouzead, husband of Madame Christine Nilsson, the famous operatic artiste. M. Rouzead died at Paris on February 22nd of paralysis of the brain brought on by anxieties connected with the recent financial crisis, in which it will be remembered Madame Nilsson lost the whole of her immense fortune.

We have to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of "The Singapore and Straits Directory for 1882." This is a capital got-up work, clearly printed on an excellent quality of paper, and very neatly and substantially bound. It contains several maps and a mass of valuable information, and is in every respect a vast improvement on previous issues of the same work.

The completed returns of the late census in the United States show the population of the great cities has been increased by leaps and bounds, while in many instances towns unknown twenty years ago have attained enormous dimensions.
New York has 1,225,550 inhabitants, against 942,292 in 1871; Chicago, 503,304, against 298,977; Brooklyn, 566,689, against 396,039; San Francisco, 233,956, against 149,473; Denver, 35,650, against only 4,759. The growth has been most marked in the West and in the manufacturing centres.

It would appear that the Admiralty are beginning to recognise the fact that the days of un-armoured men-of-war, are not yet past. We read in latest home papers that the following iron-armed ships of war will be refitted for further service by April 1:—The frigate Shah; the corvettes Active, River, Vulgar, Amethyst, Opal, and Sapphire; the sloops Osage and Wild Swan; the gun-vessels Avon, Cracker, Fralis, and Pert. It is probable the first four ships will form part of the next Flying Squadron, and the rest are required for reliefs to ships that have already completed a three years' commission abroad. The Tenados, on the North American station, having been four-years out next month.

A TRIAL of the first of two improved first-class torpedo boats, of the Batoum type, built by Messrs. Yarrow and Co. for the Argentine Republic Government, has taken place on the River Thames in the presence of the Argentine authorities, the result being that a mean speed of 17 knots was obtained. These boats will be rigged to sail direct from London to Buenos Ayres.
The seaworthiness of this class of torpedo boats has long since been placed beyond doubt. Two similar vessels were sailed across the Atlantic last year, and arrived in perfect safety, in addition to which Messrs. Yarrow and Co. have already sent no less than 11 of them round to the Mediterranean ports, and in no case has any accident occurred, although in some instances very boisterous weather was encountered.

LORD Coleridge and a special jury have had before them the case of "Conybeare v. Yates and Others," an action for libel published in the World newspaper, and having reference to the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company.
The article complained of had strongly condemned the conduct of the plaintiff at a City meeting, and justification was pleaded to the alleged libel, except to one portion referring to the plaintiff as a "cross-grained and ill-conditioned splutterer," in respect of which a shilling had been paid into court. The jury found that there was no malice; that as to the excepted phrase the article was true in substance and fact, and that one shilling was sufficient. His Lordship signed judgment for the defendants, and directed immediate execution.

SAYS this morning's Daily Press:—"In another column will be found a summary of dispatches which have just been published relating to affairs in Hongkong, chiefly sanitary matters. They show how complete has been the secretary of state's disapproval of Governor HENNESSY's policy.
The idea of subordinating the Surveyor-General to Dr. Eitel and the 'leading Chinese' will be new to most residents." The dispatches referred to contain nothing that is new to residents in Hongkong, considering that they were published in this Colony many months ago as our morning contemporary ought to know quite well. It is further, false and gratuitous to say that these documents "show how complete has been the secretary of state's disapproval of Governor Hennessy's policy." As a matter of fact it may be considered an absolute certainty that Governor Hennessy's views on sanitation in Hongkong will in the main be faithfully carried out.

A SALUTE of 13 guns was fired from the shore battery about 8 o'clock this morning in honour of the arrival of Major General Sargent, C.B., and his assumption of the command of the troops from this date.

For running away with a blanket, the property of the cook, from the garden at Head Quarters House, yesterday forenoon, a coolie was sent this morning to six weeks' hard labour by Mr.
Wodehouse.

We are requested to state that the mails from Europe, &c., by the courtesy of the master and agents, will be forwarded to Yokohama by the steamer Breconshire, instead of by the Zambesi as previously notified.

We would remind our readers that Donizetti's opera, Lucia di Lammermoor, will be performed at the Theatre Royal, City Hall, this evening by the Italian Opera Company. A brief sketch of the groundwork of the opera will be found in another column.

THE remanded case against two Gun Lascars, quarantined at McGregor's Barracks, of entering Mr. Goulbourn's house and behaving improperly to his wife, came on again this morning before Mr. Wodehouse, Captain Hewett of the Royal Artillery being in attendance. Prisoners denied having been in the house at all. The Magistrate discharged them, and ordered the case to be reported to the military authorities.

We are requested to state that the Band of the Buff, under the charge of Bandmaster Quinn, will play in the Public Gardens on Wednesday next the 5th instant, commencing at 9 o'clock p.m., on which occasion the following programme will be executed:—

Two Chinawomen, widows, were sentenced this morning by Captain Thomsen to three months' hard labour each, for being found in unlawful possession of a piece of silk, valued at $16, and the silk was ordered to be returned to the Kwang Sing Lung Piece Goods shop in Jervois-street, which establishment had been swindled out of the goods by a Chinaman who pretended he wanted to purchase the silk, and asked to be allowed to take it to his family house, from which he sloped off with the piece, on a false pretence, and did not return.

It will be seen from our Police Court news that the police have been successful in arresting some of the scoundrels who took part in the attack on a sampan in the harbour on Tuesday night.
Three of the five prisoners in custody were taken from a cargo boat off the salt-fish luns in seyingpool, the other two being found in a family boat at Yow-ma-te. So far, but two of the prisoners have been identified by the sampanman's wife, but the boatman himself, who is still in hospital from the effects of the wounds he received, may possibly be able to identify the others. Chinese Police Sergeant Tang Aloy, who has worked up the case, deserves much credit for the zeal and energy he has displayed.

We were glad to see that the steward of the American ship Blue Jacket, who was shot in the forehead in the "Land we live in" tavern, on the evening of the 5th inst., was able to appear at the Police Court to-day to give evidence, which will be found under our Police Court news, and that what at one time looked very like a case of murder, has assumed a less serious form, though still a very grave crime. Williams appeared in Court with his head bandaged, and looked considerably shaken from the effects of the wound, which but an accident prevented from being mortal. He is a rather tall man, to which circumstance he probably owes his life, the prisoner, who is short in stature, having had to fire upwards to hit him in the forehead, thus causing the bullet to glance off as it did, instead of crashing through his brain.

In the remanded case in which Arthur Champion a gunner of the Royal Artillery, is charged with stealing a registered letter containing three £10 notes which was addressed to Henry Chapman, a fellow gunner, Mr. Macnabish of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank gave evidence this morning as to two £10 notes having been cashed at the Bank on the 6th December last, by some person whom he did not know. The third note being handed to the witness, he said that the number it bore, $9,143, ran in succession to the numbers on the two notes cashed by the Bank, ($9,140 and $9,141). The endorsement "M. A.
Taylor" on this note turned out to be also the same as that on the other two. Captain Thomson committed the case for trial at the Supreme Court, the prisoner reserving his defence. As it has been pretty clearly established that the registered letter did contain three £10 notes, we presume the Post Office authorities, who are responsible for its delivery to the wrong person, will now reimburse gunner Chapman the amount.

FROM information received in England from the West Coast of Africa, it appears that there was recently an outbreak between two rival tribes at a place called Mumford on the Gold Coast, in which several natives were killed, and which was not, quelled until the British authorities interfered. Between the tribes in question great rivalry existed, and recently the head of one of them died. According to custom, the remains of the deceased chief were interred in the yard of his own house, there being buried with the body a quantity of treasure. The burial-place shortly afterwards bore traces of having been disturbed, and on examination it was discovered that thieves had stolen the treasure. The suspicious of the followers of the deceased chief turned to the rival natives, upon whom an attack was made in force. A fierce conflict ensued, the principal weapons employed being hatchets, and several persons were killed. The British authorities sent a force of Houssas to the scene of action. The disturbance was suppressed, and twenty of the ringleaders were arrested and taken to Accra.

Commercial.

THIS DAY, FOUR PM.

The principal share business to-day has been almost exclusively confined to the completion of the monthly settlements, which we are glad to say, have been of an eminently satisfactory character. Actual transfers are still of little moment, brokers complaining of the unusually dull state of affairs. We traced the sale of a few China Fires this morning at 290 per share, and a slight demand for the stock for Shanghai at the same rate still exists. This is an improvement on the previous quotation, the last transaction noted having been negotiated at 288. All other stocks show signs of weakness. Holders of Banks ask 113 per cent. premium; but there are no buyers at that rate, and we feel assured that if a legitimate offer to purchase at 112 were made, the requisite shares would be forthcoming. Docks are weak at 53, and would also be disposed of to a considerable extent if buyers cared to come to terms at a slightly lower figure. There have been several inquiries after Docks; and although nothing definite has resulted up to the time of our going to press, we may have to chronicle some important business in our next issue. We still quote Steamboats at 23; but it must be admitted that this stock is very far from being firm at the quotation, and we think a fair number of shares might be procured at a lower rate. Hotels are scarcely so firm as they have been, at least they have not been in such great demand—but we have no actual business to report. Sugars are also weak with sellers at 164.
